

Cultural Quarter, Elgin Town Hall redesign plans

Plans include:

- The redesign of the current entrance with the existing foyer area becoming a new venue
- An extension facing the A941 road housing a brand-new foyer area with entrances from the town and the car park/cooper park approaches.
- A second extension in the location of the current bar lounge which will create a studio/black box performance space and new rehearsal/practice rooms
- To enhance the acoustic and visual performance of each space and improve the town hall for performers and customers alike, the main auditorium will be separate by new walls on either side, enabling the use of multiple spaces within the building simultaneously. The new auditorium and balcony will also include a renewed seating plan to improve customer sightlines.
- The cladding on the building's modernist exteriors will be updated.
- The overall capacity of the main auditorium will increase from 600 to 800.

The works are set to begin in January 2025 with the current programme of events decanting to the Elgin Community Centre.
